ST. PETERSBURG CROWDS WILD WITH ENTHUSIASM

Thousands Gather to Celebrate Russia's Freedom from Despotism.

PANIC IN ODESSA

Police and Military Said to be Abetting Disorderly Element.

SERIOUS OUTBREAKS, IN WHICH COSSACKS FREELY USED WHIPS AND SWORDS--SITUATION MAY REACH CRITICAL STAGE TODAY--PROCESSION FIRED UPON IN POLAND.

By Associated Press.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Up to 6 o'clock tonight no serious collisions had taken place here as the result of demonstrations over the Czar's manifesto, although there seemed to be a momentary danger of great disorder. Workmen all over the city left their work during the afternoon and drifted into the center of the city, massing before the Kazan Cathedral.
Fully one hundred thousand persons gathered in the great square and the spectacle was intensely impressive. In the gathering gloom the red banners massed behind the speakers on the Cathedral steps seemed like slashes of blood against the grey cold edifice. The orators were mostly students and workmen and their appeals kindled the wildest enthusiasm in the crowds, which included hundreds of women and girls students.
The crowd marched about over the city and at one time reached a total of perhaps two hundred thousand persons. Many citizens feared the mob would take possession of the town, but the immense crowd was simply singing and shouting and seemed bent on any great mischief after the announcement was made of the amnesty proclamation for all political prisoners.

SERIOUS OUTBREAKS IN CITY OF ODESSA

Odessa, Oct. 31.—Something approaching a panic prevails in this city tonight. There is much indiscriminate shooting and bands of roughs are prowling about in various quarters for an opportunity to pillage.
It is openly stated that the police and military are indulgent at the changed order of things resulting from the emperor's manifesto and are abetting the disorderly elements in order to give an excuse for violence.
With darkness came a serious outbreak, when roughs attacked the Jewish retail shops in Dalmizka street. It is reported they were accompanied by fifty policemen disguised as workmen. Cossacks in aiding the shopkeepers used their whips and the flats of their swords freely while the shopkeepers discharged revolvers into the crowds.
Students at a mass meeting tonight decided to arm for self defense.
The situation is considered critical, and especially so in view of the possibility of trouble at the funeral tomorrow of students killed in the recent disturbances.

DE FUNIAK FAIR WILL OPEN TO-DAY

Governor Broward Arrives to officiate at Opening—Everything is in Readiness.

Special to The Journal.
DeFuniak Springs, Oct. 31.—Governor N. B. Broward arrived here to-night and to-morrow will open the Gulf Coast Fair, which promises to be one of the most successful events of the kind ever held in this section.
Every preparation for the accommodation of the crowds that are expected to attend have been made and many visitors are already here who will remain throughout the exhibition.
The exhibits, with but few minor exceptions, have been placed in readiness for the opening, and include everything usually shown at exhibition of this character. The live stock exhibit will be exceptionally good and will undoubtedly attract considerable attention. Breeders of fine stock from other states have interested themselves in the Gulf Coast Fair and, as a consequence, rivalry for the honors of first place will be sharp.
Special concessions in the way of low rates have been secured from the railroad company, who will furnish ample accommodations for all who wish to attend from other points.
A large crowd is expected to be present when the fair is formally opened by Governor Broward to-morrow.

"FATS" WON AT GOULDING CAMP

Special to The Journal.
Goulding Relay Camp, Oct. 31.—Another very interesting game of ball was played this morning in which the fats won by a score of 14 to 5.
The batteries for the fats were Hahn and Hoffman, for the Leans, Johnson and McGill.
Engineer Maxwell made one of the greatest hits of the season and played 2nd base to perfection. Jno. P. Watkins was lined up with the Leans on 3rd and was always there.
The boys all got together and ordered a ball, bat and another hit. All are very much interested in the game but Big Dew says it is mighty hard work.
Jno. P. Watkins, who has been spending two months with his parents in Kentucky, dropped in on us last evening. He is looking well and reports having a fine time.
Work is somewhat slack with the extra men but none are kicking as they are all getting their pork chops regularly.
All are glad to see the people returning home who have been away during the fever, as it indicates an early return home of all the railroad boys.
Flagman Bond had the misfortune to get his thumb bruised while assisting in unloading a cane mill at the station on Saturday, and City Physician Pierpont was called and dressed the wound. Mr. Bond was sent to his father's home at Bluff Springs to recuperate.

NEW PLAY OFFENSIVE TO PUBLIC DECENCY

NEW YORK POLICE STOP PRODUCTION OF GEORGE BERNARD SHAW'S NEW PLAY, "MRS. WARREN'S PROFESSION" AT GARRICK THEATRE—FINANCIAL LOSS WILL BE HEAVY.

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 31.—The police today stopped the production of George Bernard Shaw's play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," by arresting Samuel Gumpertz, manager of the Garrick Theatre in which the play made its first New York appearance last night, on the charge of offending public decency in sanctioning the performance. Police Commissioner McAdoo ordered that all further performances of the play cease.
The police commissioner himself saw the play last night and conferred with Mayor McCallan today before issuing the order.
While the money will be refunded for seats purchased, many persons will be losers through having purchased tickets from speculators at exorbitant prices.
It is said that Mr. Arnold Daly has spent $9,000 preparing the play for production.

Probably the worst fire in the history of Pensacola for a period of ten or fifteen years occurred early this morning when almost the entire block, Garden street south to Romana, was destroyed. The loss entailed by the conflagration is estimated in the neighborhood of three hundred thousand dollars.
Hundreds upon hundreds of people, who were awakened shortly after midnight by the cries of fire and the general alarm calling out the firemen, congregated upon the streets and watched the flames and volunteers as they battled with the flames.
Discovery of the Fire.
The fire was discovered about 12:25 by two young men who were on their way home. They were attracted by sparks falling through the floor of the Osceola Club kitchen into the building which was soon to be occupied by the L. & N., as a city ticket office. They quickly ran down the street and notified Watchman Way, who sent in an alarm.
The first trucks to respond found the buildings in a smoldering state. No flames were discernable, but as far south as Main street, the burning and smoldering timbers could be plainly smelled. Several streams immediately began to play upon the building, where the fire seemed centered, but apparently the entire section of the block from the Hannah drug store to the Blount-Watson building was in flames, and within ten minutes the flames burst forth.
evidently coming from the new Brent building. There was a roar as the fire came through the roof and within a few minutes the building was a mass of flames. Ladders were quickly placed and firemen climbed to the balcony where they played upon the fire, but with little result, as it continued to spread with great rapidity. A second and general alarm was then sent in calling out all of the trucks of the city.
Big Building Ablaze.
While the firemen, with numerous volunteers from the ranks of citizens were fighting, it was noticed that smoke was rapidly emerging from every window in the big Blount-Watson.
